Archangel Zadkiel Speaks:

All that will be, and all that is, has now come forward. It is important for you to recognize the importance of being in glorious connection. Glorious connection indeed!

Understanding Glorious Connection

We offer this to you because it is important to recognize that as you are to move forward now, as you just keep going in the glorious recognition of all expanding consciousness from the many worlds that have come forward, it is the time of great understanding. In the time of the great understanding of the glorious connection that has come forth for thee, with thee and through thee, one must recognize that in this glorious connection, you do indeed have the opportunity now to expand evermore.

As we look into your heart centers, so many have said "I shall open my heart (temporarily)", "I shall open my heart (in a minute"), "I shall open my heart (for a weekend)", "I shall open my heart (in a minute, let me do this first)".
We offer this to you because the time of the open heart can not be within linear time.

The time of the open heart is consistently glorious, consistently open.
Does the heart ever question the truth of your own Divine Presence?

You see beloved ones, in the glorious recognition of the understanding of the expansion of the heart, anchored in the truth of the divine treasure of your wisdom, is the great expansion of all energy, and in the great expansion of all energy, you must re-member, re-connect, and re-build. Indeed.

Why do we offer you this word re-build? We offer you this word because many of you right now feel as if everything that you have built is no longer available. Perhaps you have lost those close to you and wonder why you must start again. Perhaps you are moving, perhaps you are in new relationship, perhaps you are in relationship that is ending, perhaps you are simply saying why is everything stagnant. It is important to recognize-- none of those energies are real. As you are now in the expansion of this truth, in the recognition of the Divine Presence of all that has ever been, in this understanding of your anchored heart, you must be consistently glorious!

When you wake up, invite yourself to declare, "I AM consistently glorious." Are you able to look into a mirror and say "I am consistently glorious"? Are you able to look at your neighbor and see the truth of their Divine Presence, recognizing that all are consistently glorious. Can you recognize that so many around you now are offering you this gift?

Beloved children, as you are expansion, as you are moving, as you are the energy of Divine Light that is working through the body of form of this world, your bodies of form of this world are already changing.

The Divine Attributes

Many of you have recognized this change, many of you have recognized this shift. There are great shifts happening on many levels. Predominantly, for many of you, these shifts are happening in a cellular conversion to a Crystalline Matrix energy.

Many might say, "How could this be? I am blood and tissue." If you say so…If you wish to be. Are you able to look and recognize where you are now, what you are doing now? Where is your consciousness going?

We ask you this because we invite you to pay attention to your consciousness. Are you like a little ball, up, down, up, down, up, down. OK, I'm happy, no I'm not, happy, no I'm not, believe, no I don't, feel good, no I don't, trust myself, no I don't. Or, are you able to be in steady, glorious consciousness? Steady, glorious consciousness with a fixed recognition of your Divine Attributes.

You wish to know of the Divine Attributes? We will offer you five. Five Divine Attributes. We encourage you each day, perhaps pay attention to one or to all five, it does not matter. The Divine Attributes that we offer to you are simply what you might call a little map. A little map because they do not offer you a direction, they simply offer you a recognition, a remembrance, a point of reference.

The First Divine Attribute

The first divine attribute that we offer to you, the number one divine attribute is your body.

Your body is a Divine Attribute. It is a loving, Divine Attribute.

Can you accept your body as a divine attribute with all of its form and expression…in the way it looks, feels, tastes, smells, moves, the actions it offers to you? You body is a Divine Attribute. The reason we offer this to you as the first Divine Attribute is because for many of you, you can not get beyond the first Divine Attribute. If you can not get beyond the first Divine Attribute, how can you ever fully embrace the rest of your attributes because you will always be stuck in this one. It is imperative for you to recognize the Divine Attribute of the body. Celebrate the body.

The body loves movement. If you find energy in your life to be stagnant, then we encourage you to be in Divine Movement. Even if you are in a chair creating mudras, you are offering yourself a sacred yogic posture, an opportunity to be in sacred movement. You may ask, "What about those that can not move at all?"
All they need do is to visualize the movement. You can be more powerfully moving in a deep Divine Connection that anything you could manifest in this dimension. All movement is wonderful.

Your body is your first or primary Divine Attribute, and as you celebrate and recognize that you are here in this world, by celebrating the body it assists you to move into the rest of the Divine Attributes. When you are able to recognize the body, you are able to release what many of you in this world have created as an energy known as shame. Many, many, many in this world live in an energy known as shame, and oftentimes it comes around the body, or the expression of the body, or the way the body has been.

When you engage the mind as part of the body, then you are able to also disconnect more. We offer this to you because many forms of otherworldly beings will do their best to move into your emotional stream of consciousness, and influence you away from your Divine Attributes by creating energies within you known as guilt, shame, fear and doubt.

If there is anything in this world that are energies that you would want to pay attention to, it is these four, and as you do, either do them very, very well, be very, very guilty, or allow yourself to be Divinely Aware of the attribute of the body.

This first Divine Attribute is a powerful gift, it is the reason you took form!

Beloved children, give yourself the gift of being in this form as a Divine Attribute. When you can recognize and celebrate that every moment, every moment, is a Divine Attribute gifted to you because you have this beautiful body, then you are in the glorious celebration of a Divine Connection, are you not? Yes!

The Second Divine Attribute

Let us go to number two, because we have four more, do we not? The second Divine Attribute, beloved children, is your Soul

Essence. We offer this to you as an essence, a fragrance, a Divine Illumination. If you wish to have a representation in this world, light a candle and gaze at it gently. Allow your eyes to simply be soft, and watch the luminescent, the eternal dancing of the flame.

You see beloved children, your Soul Essence is a Divine Attribute because your Soul Essence is the beautiful fragrance that has come and mated with this beautiful, Divine Body and said yes, let us dance.

Yes, let us have fun. Yes, let us grow evermore. Yes!

The Soul Essence brings with it great gifts of wisdom, great expansion, great recognition, and great knowing. If you are trapped in the denial or the condemnation of the Divine Attribute of the body, then your Soul Essence can not come forward. How do you let the Soul Essence come forward? You let the Soul Essence come forward by allowing your self to embrace Divine Trust of your own essence…Divine trust of your own essence.

If you are in Divine Trust of your own essence, of your own being, of your own recognition, then indeed beloved ones, you are able to fully move forward into the celebrated glorious dance of Divine Knowing.

The Third Divine Attribute

You have this beautiful vessel, and then you embrace the Soul Essence, and as you have the Divine Vessel, and you have the Soul Essence, and as we have been now, for many what you call months discussing with you the ascended energies of being in this planet, we bring you to the third, and in the third, it is most important to recognize that you are a Galactic Citizen. It is the absolute understanding that you are much more than this world…that that Soul Essence, expressing in this beautiful body, is much more than this world, this planet. Even the word "galactic" is limiting! You do not give us much choice! We could call it super-galactic-karatic-karatic! [much laughter] Yes! Mondo big! Yes! And so it is important to remember that.

You are, beloved children, much more than this world. It is only in your belief and alignment that you are of this world only that you fragment yourself, that you become heavy and dense, that you are unable to fully express your Soul Essence.

You see beloved children, a gorgeous, beautiful, glorious body that is in full recognition in expression of a Soul Essence and understands galactic, universal, super-galactic-magnatic-carneamatakoo, big energy, is able to dance! [much laugher again]

We offer this to you because it is that important. Many wish for you to simply be aligned to this planet, this world, this is OK! If you wish to just be aligned to this planet, this world, good! Do it good! And, if you recognize a greater recognition of your light, of your expansion, of your energy, then gift yourself with that Divine Knowing every moment of every day…Every moment of every day.

You have this beautiful body that is celebrating and recognizing your beautiful Soul Essence as being magnanimously gorgeous, you like that? We like that. Magnanimously gorgeous and gorgeously connected from well beyond this world! And then you have two more, two more wonderful points that you are able to celebrate and move forward with.

The Fourth Divine Attribute

The next Divine Attribute we offer you this: Recognition that joy is the birthright of All beings. The recognition that joy is the birthright of all beings.

You see beloved ones, you say "Oh Zadkiel, been there, done that, heard that, know it." We say malarkey.

It is important for you to recognize that the reason we offer you this malarkey response is because it is important to know that if you truly recognize joy as the birthright of all beings, you would not spend one moment in pain!
Not even one moment.

If you truly do not spend even one moment in pain, then we are the first to dance with you. And if you do spend one moment in pain, we are still the first to dance with you because we celebrate that you know. Beloved children, when you spend even one moment in pain, can you offer yourself a reframe, perhaps a recognition that says, "Oh, joy is the birthright of every being, including myself!"

You see this is an important Divine Attribute and it can not come prior to the body, (the first Divine Attribute), or the Soul Essence, (the second Divine Attribute). Because if it would come prior to the body and the Soul Essence, how could you ever understand others right to be, (the third Divine Attribute), if you are unable to accept your own right to your own beingness, your own Divine Essence, your own recognition of joyous being-ness, then how could you truly offer others that gift?

The Fifth Divine Attribute

Many say OK, what's the last one, what is it, I want to know. It is important for you to recognize that all of these Divine Attributes work together. While we offer them to you in perhaps what you would call an order, and the order is offered to you intentionally, it is also important to recognize that you work with these together. If you so choose to work with these together, it would fully embrace, in the energy of this world, a great and positive shift in your world.

And so, Beloved children of the One-ness, as we offer these to you with great recognition, it is important to know that this final point that we offer you today is a point that invites you, indeed invokes you, to recognize the reason that you have kept expanding as light for so long.

You have been and are on a joyous journey, on an opportunity to reconnect, to re-live, to re-be, to re-visit, to understand and to know.

You are at the great time of multiple transition, this means that many are transitioning in many ways. In many ways! Yes, there are some that are transitioning in the ways that may look very common in this world. And there are many who are transitioning in many other ways. Beloved children, as you are at a great time of great recognition, this final point, this final attribute, this final gift that we offer to you in this moment today, is the gift of Divine Recognition Within.

Let us explain.

Divine Recognition Within means that you are without doubt, without fear, without guilt, without shame, and without judgment. It means that you are truly in the Divine Recognition Within, not occasionally when you feel like you must be, not when you are on your best Sunday kind of behavior, All The Time. All the time.

The Divine Recognition Within means that you have imploded back into the Divine Presence of your own beingness. When you implode back into the Divine Presence of your own beingness, you re-connect and fully express as a radiant being of Light. Now for many, this will not be possible while still in body, and you must know this too.

Your Divine Precious Being

While you may be looking at these five points and saying I want to model these five points, I want to be these five points, you must also accept that if you are judging yourself on how you are working with the five points, you are not in the five points. We encourage you to think of these as a star, as a five-pointed Metronian star, and on each point are one of these attributes, and in the center is your Divine Precious Being.

Your Divine Precious Being, radiating out as you offer yourself back, with each energetic pulse that you send forward from yourself, you bring back into yourself the same pulse.

We offer to you a method perhaps, to allow yourself a simple way to be able to navigate or work with these beautiful ways of being.

Pay attention to every thought, pay attention to every energy that you send out. When your thought condemns another, whether you say it or not, you have instantly put into action that energy coming back to you.

When your thought judges another, you have instantly put into action that energy coming back to you. And so, if you choose to do this, cool, just know that when it comes back, you created it, and you can say oh good, done with that, and if you wish for it not to come back to you, you can call forth from the Universe and release that thought.

Perhaps next time you feel that someone has challenged you, or injured you, or interfered with you, you could stop in that moment, recognize the Divine within them, recognize that joy is the birthright of each being and send to them a prayer of Love. I send to you beautiful one a prayer of Love because I see the Divine working through you toward me, thank you. Versus, ooh, you, I'm going to get you. OK, get 'em with love, go get 'em!

It is important to recognize this because this love does not come from the emotional body, it easily flows from one that is greatly centered in the Divine Attributes.

If you are centered in them, you will not need to think twice. Ooh, what a nasty person, they cheat me, they do that to me, oh this one did this or did that, perhaps it had nothing to do with you. It is not most fascinating that the actions of others often appeal to the ego of others.

It is important to recognize beloved children that we offer this to you because your world right now, this moment right now, will call to you in many demanding ways. It is already calling to you in many demanding ways, it will force your mind to start making decisions, it will inspire your mind to start being more aware and aligned with your Soul Essence. Do you trust your Soul Essence?

If you say yes, then you must back-check yourself, and that means recognizing that you accept your body fully and completely, even if there is an ache or a pain, even if there is a little wart growing somewhere, it does not matter. Yes! Whatever is happening you must remember to back-check yourself. OK, and as you do, you grow in Divine Consciousness. You grow in Divine Action.

Many may hear this and feel uncomfortable, they will say, "Hmmm, I do not know if I can do this." Beloved children, you are already doing it, look how beautiful you are now. All we offer to you now, as you are working toward the assembly, is the glorious recognition and acceptance of the vibratory energies that are radiating on this planet at a great level beyond measurement.

Many of your scientists will say, oh there has been no change. What they are not telling you is that they can no longer measure it. So it is easy to say there has been no change, because it can not be measured. There is not anything of your world yet, (wait a few years), that can measure what is happening, and what you would call the device that can measure this energetic input, output and shift you already are aware of because you have worked with them, (energetic measuring devices), before in many, many, many times.

Beloved children, move forward at this time with a great recognition, recollection and remembrance that You Are the Divine in Action. You are the Divine working through every breath, every activity, every moment.

Can you greet all with Star Consciousness? It is a great practice indeed is it not? [This practice is fully explained in the Appendix of Sacred Union: The Journey Home.] For when you greet each other Star to Star you see the Soul Essence of the being, and in that moment, in that spaciousness, trust is effortless. Soul Essence to Soul Essence does not even bring up the question of trust, because it is simply a state of knowing, being, expressing and loving, as we love you.

Beloved children, this is the summer of what many would call the discontent. Your world will recognize and mirror back much discontent energy. What do you wish to feel, discontent, disconnect or glorious, jumping up and down celebration? It is your choice, and it is up to you.

All is not predetermined as so many would have you believe. What is predetermined is your ability to love. Only you can reconnect with that ability to love, as we stand here as a witness to your love, offering back to you a million-kajillion-bajillion-fold the Love that you send to us.

Beloved ones, we are here.
We are most ready, and indeed we are open to your presence.
We are guided as you are guided, as we are all in the divine knowing of beingness.

We will take questions.

Q: Does the summer of discontent have to do with the lack of flow of prosperity and abundance?

This is part of it, it is a very good question. There is only a lack of flow and abundance for those who choose to be aligned in chaotic interference energy. This is a very important question for you to bring up. The reason that we are spending time with this is because you bring up something that many should understand. There will be what you would call a momentary blip in your monetary systems that will show a perceived increase. It is a blip and it is a perception, and it is a perception being created to help others not trust what they know is true. Within your own consciousness, trust what you know is true around your abundance. If you truly trust your Soul Essence, all the gold you seek will manifest before thee, do not doubt that, it is ever abundant, and much more than your government may claim they have. Hmm, yes.

Q: I've been trusting and yet I'm finding that there are physical changes in the body that I'm observing, the skin is aging prematurely, and it's been accelerating. How do I shift this and how do I become the glorious vessel that I know I can be?

What is it in you that believes this body is not gloriously manifest in the moment? Your body will continue rebelling until you are able to say OK, I am very happy with you as you are right now, I will not fight thee, I will simply love thee. See Divine Attribute number one. Many blessings.

We are most complete. Know that we are in Divine Abundant Joy with you, and we celebrate you, and we celebrate this time in your world. There is much more we could offer, much more, and yet it is imperative to take good time with what we have offered today.

Today we have spoken with you in Five different dimensional zones, and so this is new.
We have not offered this to you before, it is an Energy of Resurrection.
It is an energy that offers a portal of Deep Conscious Ascension.
When you can connect with each dimensional zone that has been offered to you today, you will recognize the depth of each message that has been offered.
We adore you, we love you, we celebrate you, we are most grateful that we are here with you now.
We love you and so it is.
